Dressing for Christmas

Throughout the years, Dunrovin has had different types of holiday celebrations. Dunrovin Ranch's holiday celebrations have followed the creative spirits of the staff on hand. Those of you who will with us the last couple of years will well remember ranch manager Kelli's Christmas antics. Kelli possesses a wicked sense of humor and uses her Hollywood film industry background to cook up all kinds of off beat cheer. Who can forget her outlandish Christmas pajama outfit or her fractured version of the Night Before Christmas at Dunrovin. Don't worry! We will rebroadcast it on Christmas Eve this year.

Christmases past have included decorating the horses for fun photos.

The DIVAS have made holiday public appearances at stores and in parades

So what will happen this year? What will James and our two wonderful winter workers Levi and Kris construct from the pieces pictured below? Tune in to find out!
